

Which book of the Bible ...

Enter the book of the Bible where the following took place or was mentioned.

- | | | |
|--|-----------------------------|---|
| Across: | 16. Samson | 6. Tabernacle is described |
| 3. Man lost riches and family | 17. ...God is not mocked... | 7. Jerusalem rebuilder |
| 4. Prophet foretold fall off Jerusalem | 18. Jewish song book | 8. Name of two N. T. Books |
| 6. Armor of God | 19. 2nd N. T. Book | 12. Story of Goliath |
| 9. Prophet of Judah | Down: | 13. Whale story |
| 10. Wise sayings | 1. Leader after Moses | 14. .. confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus... |
| 11. Queen of Persia | 2. Tells of creation | 15. Two N.T. books |
| 13. Broken-hearted prophet | 5. ... be born again ... | |

The President Believed The Bible

By Woodrow Wilson, 28th president

Our civilization cannot survive materially unless it is redeemed spiritually. The Bible is the word of life. I beg that you will read it and find this out for yourself. You will find the things you have wondered about and been troubled about all your life as men have been always; and the more you read it, it will become plain to you what things are worthwhile and what are not, and what things make men happy ... When you have read the Bible you will know that it is the Word of God, because you will have found in it the key to your own heart, your own happiness, and your own duty.

The Bible View

Editor: Bill Brinkworth Web: www.OpenThouMineEyes.com Vol.: 78

Hearses Don't Tow U-Hauls

"Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:"
Matthew 6:19.

Thousands of years ago, in Egypt, rich, powerful pharaohs prepared for their burial ahead of their death.

They sought and hired some of the wisest mathematicians,
Continued on Page 2

Heart Problems

In this day and age, there are many excuses available for any mistake or problem in our life. Psychologists sometimes blame a patient's problem on environment. Social workers label many behaviors as peer-pressure related. Income, hereditary, age, race are also some of the popular excuses for any wrong doing.

Sometimes the above mentioned excuses are legitimate, but many times they are scapegoat excuses for the real source of the problem. The Bible many times speaks of the heart as the origin of wickedness.

By heart it is not meant the blood-thumping organ, but more the center of thoughts, feelings, and our will. Not always are our evil thoughts generated by brain impulses. There is not one location where a surgeon could, under dissection, point to and identify as, "this is where lying comes from," or "this organ architects, masons and engineers. Detailed precise plans were designed.
Continued on Page 3

Hearses Don't . . .

Continued from Page 1

Different locations were examined and finally the right spot was surveyed. The construction was begun.

Thousands of men and women were engaged for the mammoth task. Many were slaves.

Stone cutters were sent to task to provide one to ten ton granite blocks. The stones were slid along cobbled roadways or brought in by barges. It was a grueling task. Many died from the heat, lack of food, and from tragedies in handling the massive blocks.

Each block was transported to the building site. Slowly, with much care, the blocks were put in their precise, designed-for position. Block after block was hoisted by the sweat of many workers. It was a tedious work of many, many years.

At last the work was done. The tomb of the Pharaoh was completed. The pyramid was a marvel of precision. Blocks, without mortar, were laid so close together that not even a matchbook cover could be placed between many of the joints.

If you don't meet Jesus today as Saviour, one day you will meet Him as judge.

Pastor M. West

The Pharaoh looked upon it with his age-dimmed eyes, knowing that one day he would be buried in a hidden room amidst the tons of granite.

Finally, the Pharaoh died. His corpse was specially prepared with herbs, ointments and linen wrappings. His prearranged orders were carried out.

The Pharaoh's body, his faithful servants, wives, pets, and many of his prized possessions were sealed, sometimes, alive with him in the tomb. He believed that in a next life he would be able to enjoy all his earthy treasures.

But his treasures are still there, if they hadn't been plundered by thieves or taken away to the museums. He found out too late, as will many millions, that, no matter the provision, one cannot take anything from this life into the next.

If people have trusted in the shed blood of Jesus Christ for their salvation, they have the promise of heaven but what will they find awaiting them in heaven? Their earthly treasures will be left behind where the moths will consume them, will decay by rust or, be taken by thieves or family relatives.

After a person is saved he has a responsibility to live and serve the Lord. In doing so He will be rewarded for what he has done for the Lord. It is sending our treasures ahead to the heavenly bank account where it will be appreciated later — when we spend eternity there.

"But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal." Matthew 6:20

If you are saved, have you deposited into that heavenly account? You can't take your treasures with you when you leave this life. The Hearse that drives you to your final resting place will not have a trailer-hitch to take your valuables with you. So send your "treasures" ahead, where they will draw heavenly interest rates.

Heart Problems

Continued from Page 1
generates the desire to steal."

It is this "heart" that Mark speaks of when he writes, "Do ye not perceive that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him: because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly ..." Mark 7:1-19.

Things entering into the body cannot make us do wrong, unless our "heart" is in such a state as it would allow our bodies to perform the sin.

Although many under the influence of drugs and alcohol do wrong things, it is not totally what went into their blood stream that is at fault. Their "heart" had to be in a

We are all sinners in need of a Saviour from our sins!

"For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;" Romans 3:23

"Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." Romans 5:12 tolerant-to-sin state to allow such a thing to happen in the first place. If this were not true, then anyone partaking of the sin of alcohol would have the same desire to fight, rape, curse, steal and get into more sin. This, however, does not happen every time booze is swallowed.

There is not a pill to force anyone to steal. There is not one bottle on the shelf that will make one sin. It is the already willing, desensitized-to-sin heart, which, when normal moral-protecting inhibitions are weakened by the depressing or stimulating effects of the drugs or alcohol, that allows one to sin.

Nothing entering the belly can defile the man. There is not one un-Koshered pickle, or third scoop of vanilla ice-cream, or anything man puts into his mouth that he should blame as the reason for his wrong doing. The source of sin generates from man's own "heart."