Obstacles God Puts Forth

stem results in one's letting it go and coming up with another plan. The "pricks" are the plant's protection.

God uses the "pricks" of uncomfortable circumstances in our lives to change our direction. He did this in Paul's life, as the unsaved but religious man traveled on the Damascus road.

Acts 9:5 "And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks."

Suppose a traveler, on a stormy night, should take up his lodging in some cave in the woods, where there are nothing but serpents and adders, and such like venomous creatures. Because he sleeps, he sees them not. He sleeps as soundly as if he were at home in his own bed. When the morning comes, he sees what companions are about him. He uses all the means possible, and makes all the haste to get out of that cave.

In the same way is every impenitent sinner. Beset with as many "serpents" of his sins, he cannot see them, and therefore fears them not. He goes through life without their bothering his conscience or lifestyle. He is "asleep" as soundly as if he were in Solomon's bed.

However, when he is "awakened" to see the sins that beset his life, and see them as God sees them, he sees the dangers around him that his sins have Continued on Page 3

Continued from Page 1 way. Unfortunately, he did not detect, nor heed, the "pricks" God sent in His life to turn him in the right direction that God desired.

"Pricks" that Saul ignored:

"Pricked" ears – When Paul heard the preachers of the Gospel, he did all he could to stifle their preaching. Instead of pricking his conscience so he could change his wrong path, it angered him and encouraged him to do more to silence Christians.

He even held the coats of those that stoned the deacon, Stephen. While he was standing there he probably heard the Word of God, as at other times, when he was around Christians. Still he held to his own religion, even when the people of God preached and warned against it.

"Pricked eyes" – Undoubtedly, he saw Christianity in action. He saw families split, people die, and heartache inflicted, but still the Christians would not waiver in their obedience to God's commands. In all the trouble he instigated against Christians, he saw that that they had a peace that he surely did not understand. He was like his name-sake, King Saul, who persecuted righteous David.

Pricks that others ignore:

Pricked by circumstances: Hard times, sickness, failures, testings, aggravating situations, disasters, etc. are many times meant to draw us closer to God and to cause us to trust him more. Instead, folks many times grow farther from the source of strength they need during those hard times. They do not examine themselves and what they are doing in God's eyes, and do not get the message that God is trying to send them through their trials.

Pricked ears: Perhaps, God sent a godly mother, grandmother, neighbor, friend, or Sunday school teacher to us, or let us hear a preacher on TV; but still His invitation was ignored. People often do not "hear" what God is trying to tell them.

Pricked eyes: We've seen bits of the Word of God in tracts and good Christian testimonies, yet we ignore His words and the godly examples allowed to cross our path. Too often we do not heed God's "pricks" to our heart.

When examining your life, do you see any obstacles God may have put in the way to change your direction? Is it possible you are fighting or ignoring the obstacles God has allowed to be placed in your life to get you to turn in the direction He desires? Are the "pricks" allowed in your life not changing your direction to where God wants you? If so, what will you do next?

Troubled Thoughts

Dr. Robert G. Lee

One morning when I was a boy, the preacher preached a sermon which I think now must have been on the subject, "The Gates of Heaven." In the sermon he asked, "If the gates of heaven were opened, would you enter in?"

The question startled me. I knew that if the gates of heaven were opened that day I could not enter, because I could not claim to be a Christian boy.

That night the preacher's text was, "What then shall I do with Jesus who is called the Christ?" He said very simply that to accept Christ as Saviour meant heaven and that to reject Him as Saviour meant hell.

I went home that night with the most wretched feeling. I could not sleep. I got up in the night, slipped out of the window that opened on the back porch, and went down to the moonlit watermelon patch. It was a beautiful, clear night, and I thought of the heaven beyond the stars and of the hell somewhere in some vast region below.

"Be quiet enough to hear God's whispers."

At the breakfast table next morning, my mother said, "Son, you look like you didn't sleep much last night."

"No ma'am," I said, "I didn't."

"What was the matter?"

"I feel awfully sinful," I admitted.

I had to plow that day. My misery grew until finally I drove out to the end of a long row and dropped the plow down by the side of my old white mule. I got down in the fence corner, and told God how bad and sinful I felt, and I wanted to be saved.

"If one must accept Jesus to be saved," I prayed, "then I accept Him." There in a fence corner, the Lord saved me.

That night, the text of the preacher's sermon, I do not remember. I walked right down the church aisle and let it be known that the Lord had saved me. I do remember the hymn they sang.

"Out of my bondage, sorrow, and night;

Jesus, I come! Jesus, I come! Into thy freedom gladness, and light;

Jesus, I come to Thee."

The peace that came to me in the fence corner is in my heart until this day.

"Failing morally is bad. Failing to repent is worse."
